

Connecting Professionals since 1952

The IRRV Forum Service has been providing a platform for discussion for local taxation issues of both national and local concern since 1952. It is aimed at all those involved in or with an interest in local government revenues and benefits. Forum membership is on a corporate rather than individual basis and is open to all public bodies, local authorities and private companies irrespective of membership or involvement in other Institute activities.

Forum members can choose to join any one of the 10 regional Forums run throughout the country:

Membership includes:

Four regional meetings with a technical update provided by David Airey and expert guests speaking topical issues. Forum members receive two complimentary places at each regional meeting.

Not only do you benefit from the technical update but these meetings provide the ideal opportunity for practitioners to network. Refreshments and lunch are of course included at the meetings.

Unlimited user licence for the Forum Portal where forum members can book, view and download agendas, maps, minutes and presentations.

Unrestricted access to the ever popular Technical Enquiry Service. This service is designed as a resource for every member to have at his or her fingertips. Members can submit their Technical Queries via the Forum Portal and qualified Institute practitioners will respond with their expert opinion.

Three day delegate places at any event in the Institute's One Day Programme.

Training courses run by experienced practitioners covering Council Tax, Non-Domestic Rates and Benefits. Forum Members receive two complimentary places at Council Tax, Non-Domestic Rates and Benefits days (so six in total), and additional places at discounted rates.

A minimum of fortnightly electronic alerts updating members on the latest developments in best practice, legislation and services.

Free membership to 'Jobs Online'. Jobs Online offers you unrivalled access to a targeted pool of professionals. With a growing membership and more than 2000 hits per week, the Institute's web recruitment service is well placed to help your organisation find the right candidates for your job vacancies.

Forum Members are also eligible to member rates to IRRV Conferences which makes attending Institute events exceptional value for money.

Please note: the Forum subscription year runs from 1st January to 31st December.

The IRRV Forum Service is my 'safety net' due to the quality and content of the updates delivered by David Airey. These updates give me complete confidence that I have not missed anything that I should know about, which can be easy to do due to the excessive volume of information issued on a daily basis by a variety of agencies.
